Sekai No Hajimari

Hello guys and girls! This my first Haibane Renmei fan fiction! I've watched it months ago and I absolutely love it. This isn't really a fan fiction. It's just a transcription of "The Beginning of the World" from episode 5, with some changes. I loved that theory they created. It's very similar to the Christian theory. Although I'm not a religious person I was very touched by the way Rakka and Nemu saw the world and their breed. Obviously there will be spoilers for that episode. Hope you like this.

***The Beginning Of The World***

In the name of the world, there was dark mist in the name of "Nothingness".

A God appearedâ€|. God justâ€|. Being thereâ€|. Provided light for the "Nothingness".

What is our origin?

The Godâ€|. Bright above our headâ€|. It became the Sunâ€|

It's too faded to readâ€|

Nemu's Point Of View

When God above his headâ€|.

When God took the brightly shining halo above his head and held it highâ€|. It became the Sunâ€|

Then the God swung his staff and the "Nothingness" split in twoâ€|One became the Skyâ€| and the other became the Earthâ€|

But he missed his mark, and formed mountains and valleysâ€|God said he failed, but it was also well.

Then God drew on the Earth, grass and trees grew one after anotherâ€|And birds and animals were bornâ€|

Then God thought up of a being that looks like him, and drewâ€|But this looked too similar to God and was a failureâ€|So God painted their wings grey, and made a hole through the haloâ€|He named them Haibane and he put them in the corner of his mindâ€|

God again drew a being without the wings or haloâ€|And made humansâ€|This was well madeâ€|

God was very satisfied and heâ€|

Rakka's Point Of View

He dozed offâ€|The Haibane, who were supposed to disappear, were able to escape from his mindâ€|

When the God woke up, the Haibane were already floating in the Skyâ€|

God was very generous to failures, so he decided to leave the small world, and the Haibaneâ€|

So the town of Glie floats in the whole that is neither Earth nor Oceanâ€|
